Allies Meeting "Good Deal Of Opposition" In Drive Upon Syrian Capital

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
CAIRO, June 19.—British bombers have blasted positions of Vichy forces defending the Syrian city of Damascus, an official announcement said today.

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 19.—A Reuters (British) dispatch from Jerusalem said today that British and Free French forces attacked Damascus after occupying the Mezza airport four miles west of the ancient Syrian capital. A military spokesman at Jerusalem, who announced the assault on Damascus, also was quoted by Reuters as stating that the Allies were meeting a "good deal of opposition."

He said, however, that the British and Free French forces were exerting continuous pressure all along the line south and southeast of Damascus and around Jebelkailab. Other reports indicated that Damascus was attacked after an effort to persuade the Vichy forces to surrender the age-old city proved futile. London military authorities cautiously admitted it was "very probable" that operations already are in progress for an Allied advance into Damascus.

The Daily Express quoted the Free French radio station at Jerusalem as stating that the British commander had given Gen. Henri

Budget Deadlock May Halt Work On Highways In State

Governor James Warns That Legislature Must Act Or Work May Suspend

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, June 19.—The state highways department may be forced to suspend operations soon for lack of funds, precipitated by the legislative deadlock over enactment of a budget, Gov. Arthur H. James warned today.

The department has a working balance of only $500,000 to carry through until the end of the month the governor was informed in a letter from Highways Secretary I Lamont Hughes. The cash balance in the motor license fund totals $2,826,000 but immediate obligations reduce that amount to the lowest figure, he said. Governor James told newspapermen he cannot understand why the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives is unwilling to agree on the passage of legislation enabling the commonwealth to borrow money from the sale of tax anticipation notes.

Inability to do this, he explained, is holding up the payment of funds to the highways department, as well as to municipalities and school districts throughout the state.

Dan Cupid In Conn's Corner For New Fight

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 19.—Billy Conn, the Irish kid from Pittsburgh, who almost whipped Joe Louis, is setting himself for another fight—and this time he has Dan Cupid in his corner. Betting odds make Conn the favorite. In this corner we have Conn—in that corner his prospective father-in-law, James L. Smith of Pittsburgh. Smith, a one-time National league ball player, doesn't want his daughter, pretty Mary Louise Smith, to marry Conn. For one reason, she's only 18. Now, Smith is Irish himself and has a lot of Irish fighting spirit, and he doesn't care even if Conn is admittedly a great fighter. He vowed yesterday he'd take on Billy in physical combat before he'd see Conn's love match come off. Smith was officially "out of town" today in Pittsburgh after hearing and reading how Billy the Kid went 13 rounds with Louis, the champ. At Smith's home, a woman wearily said over the long distance telephone that "the whole family has gone to Ocean City, N. J., and please don't bother us." She said none of the Smiths—the Missus or Mary Lou—would be back until Monday. At Ocean City, where the Smiths

Billy Conn Dashes To His Sweetheart, Will Be Married

Doesn't Even Wait For His $80,000 Today, Mike Jacobs Astonished

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 19.—Leaving his $80,000 purse in the hands of Promoter Mike Jacobs, young Billy Conn who last night came within a hair's breadth of the world's heavyweight championship, slipped out of New York today to be married. He was reported to have gone to Broadmoor, a suburb of Philadelphia, for a lifelong engagement with his 18-year old sweetheart, Mary Louise Smith of Pittsburgh. Mike was as surprised as anyone to learn that the Irish fighter whom Joe Louis narrowly defeated last night had left town. The promoter just stood around with the eighty grand and waited for Billy to come back a benedict.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to waive safety-at-sea laws for the duration of the unlimited emergency in order that urgently needed shipping might operate more freely. McKeesport Strike Simmers Down To Endurance Test

(International News Service)
MCKEESPORT, June 19.—The strike of McKeesport service employees simmered down today to more or less of an endurance contest. McKeesport merchants were reported hauling garbage to the Duquesne municipal dump as the strike entered its fourth day. Mayor Elmer J. Maloy of Duquesne, who is an SWOC district organizer, said any garbage hauled to Duquesne must be in covered trucks or police will halt them "at the city line." The strikers met and adjourned last night without taking an anticipated back-to-work vote. John Barnes, SWOC organizer, checkmated any such action by declaring:

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 19.—In a desperate attempt to run the British blockade through to Germany, the freighter Hermes which has been tied up at Rio De Janeiro Harbor for two months sailed today with a huge cargo. In her holds were supplies of cast iron, castor seeds, hides, coffee and cotton. (Lloyd's register, authoritative annual of shipping lists no German merchant ships by the name Hermes. However, there are two Dutch freighters by that name, of 3,768 and 2,746 tons.)

Reveal German Consul Sought To Give Orders To Greek Ship Captains

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 19.—Unimpeachable sources today revealed that the German consul general in New York, Johannes Borchers, attempted less than a fortnight ago to exert pressure on the captains of Greek ships in American ports. Borchers sent messages to the Greek captains ordering them to place their ships at the disposal of the puppet Greek government established in Athens after the German occupation of Greece. He said he was acting on behalf of the German-controlled Athens government in transmitting the orders. Refused To Obey. The Greek captains refused to obey Borchers' orders and notified

Bedlam Of Rumors Is One Of Strangest Developments Of Present War

(International News Service)
Wild rumor and report purporting to show that Germany and Russia are in conflict today overshadowed heavy fighting in the Anglo-German war—about the existence of which there is no doubt. The bedlam of rumors was one of the strangest developments of the war. The air waves of Europe were flooded with reports of Russo-German conflict—broadcast perhaps for propaganda purposes, perhaps from sheer hysteria.

They came from the length and breadth of Europe—from Tiflis in Russia, from Helsinki, London, Ankara and Stockholm. Neither Berlin nor Moscow gave the slightest hint that anything but the friendliest relations prevailed between Germany and Russia. And the authoritative British Press Association cast doubt upon the reports. Nevertheless, the London Press

Major C. L. Yost Holdup Victim

Auto And Wallet Taken From Him On Outskirts Of Ambridge

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 19.—The stolen automobile of Major Charles L. Yost of Pittsburgh was discovered in Glenfield Hollow today but the armed thug who took it after robbing Major Yost and forcing him from the machine was still at large. James Spratt, an American Bridge company employee, found the car as he was on his way to work. Major Yost, attached to the ordnance department in Pittsburgh, told police that he had stopped at a red light on the outskirts of Ambridge and that the bandit approached while he waited for the traffic light to change. He lost his wallet, identification papers and cash, but no official documents of any importance. The major, dressed in civilian clothes, was making an inspection tour of national defense plants in the Beaver county area.

The thug forced him to get out of the machine, then sped away in the officer's car. The machine bore official army plates.

Farmers are in the midst of hay harvest in Lawrence County. Numerous fields have already been cut. Elimination of the use of fireworks in Pennsylvania for celebration of the Fourth of July has also eliminated the preliminary use of firecrackers, which in some years extended for several weeks. New houses continue to spring up in the suburbs of the city, there being quite a noticeable building spurt in some areas adjacent to the city. With some good weather, house painting is taking on the nature of an epidemic. Many homes are being freshened up, both in the city and country it is noted. Consider Problems Of Oil Industry

Leaders Gather In Washington

Seek To Provide Plan To Avert Need Of "Gasless Sundays" In East

TRANSPORTATION IS BIG PROBLEM

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—With the East facing possible "gasless Sundays," representatives of the nation's petroleum industry gathered in Washington today to work out production and transportation problems to alleviate the threatening gasoline and oil shortage along the Atlantic seaboard.

Summoned to Washington by Petroleum Coordinator Ickes, several hundred officers of producing, refining and transportation companies will be asked to put aside profit considerations and work out some means of moving greater amounts of petroleum and products to eastern consumer markets.

Blame Government Action

Industry representatives have asserted that the threatened shortage is due to a lack of transportation facilities brought about directly from government action in confiscating 50 American oil tankers for the aid-to-Britain program.

Another factor in the shortage situation is the constantly rising demand for gasoline and oil, both for defense purposes, and as a result of a "poor man's boom" arising from increased jobs and payrolls in defense industries.

In a report to the office of production management, only a few days after Ickes was named petroleum coordinator by President Roosevelt, a committee representing major oil producers and refiners estimated that the projected shortage is equal to the amount of oil that could be transported by 49 tankers.

Propose Pipelines

To meet the situation, new pipelines from western and mid-continent oil fields to the East have been proposed, along with suggestions that more efficient use be made of tanker tonnage and railroad facilities.

Only yesterday, Ickes announced an arrangement whereby three tankers which heretofore hauled gasoline from California to the east coast will be put on the much shorter run from gulf ports.

This move will increase gasoline shipments to the east coast by more than 5,000,000 barrels a year, or the equivalent of three tankers.

Ickes has emphasized that in the order to conserve oil and gas supplies, it may become necessary for automobile drivers to cut down fuel consumption by resorting to "gasless Sundays" or some other method of restricting the pleasure use of gas and oil. He also has suggested that home oil heating furnaces may have to operate at lower temperatures this winter or be converted to coal heating units.

REVEAL GERMAN CONSUL SOUGHT TO GIVE ORDERS TO GREEK SHIP

man-controlled Athens government. American officials regard them as having been inspired by Berlin.

If the Greek captains had accepted the orders transmitted by Borchers, it is thought in official quarters in Washington that they might later have been instructed either to sabotage their ships or attempt to escape with them into an Axis port.

Greek Captains Loyal

It was pointed out that if the Greek captains had not been loyal to the democratic cause, they might have sailed from American ports with cargo loads of vital war supplies and, once at sea, headed for an Axis-controlled port in Europe.

Germany's action in seeking indirectly to get control of the Greek ships in American waters recalled a similar move by the Italian government in connection with Yugoslavian vessels in this country's ports.

Early last May, Rome sent wireless messages to the captains of 17 Yugoslavian ships in American waters ordering them to sail immediately for "friendly" South American ports and report to the Italian consuls there.

The Yugoslavian captains ignored the orders and advised Yugoslavian Minister Constantin Fotitch in Washington, who, in turn, notified the state department.

U. S. Coast Guardsmen were immediately ordered to board the Yugoslavian vessels in a precautionary measure, but they were quickly withdrawn when it became apparent the Yugoslavian captains could be trusted in view of the good faith of the Greek captains.

The American government likewise considered it unnecessary to take any precautionary measures concerning the Greek ships now in American ports.

The number of Greek vessels affected by Borchers' orders is withheld in deference to the government's ban on the publication of any information concerning the movement of ships carrying American supplies to Britain.

BERLIN CLAIMS MANY TANKS ARE CAPTURED OR DISABLED IN AFRICA

British offensive covered a large area and probably involved all available British forces in the area.

While final results have not yet been received in Berlin, German military authorities claimed the British casualties in the Sollum battle were "proportionately" the highest that imperial units have yet suffered in the war.

A war communique said large quantities of British war material, including many field guns and anti-tank guns, also had been captured, and that a German tank formation attacked and silenced or captured several British artillery batteries.

The announcement also stated that German planes destroyed several small enemy merchant ships off Cromer and successfully raided port facilities at Great Yarmouth as well as a British airport in the midlands.

Fourteen British bombing and fighting planes were declared to have been shot down yesterday.

Dentz, French high commissioner for Syria, until 5:30 a. m. today to surrender Damascus.

According to this account, Dentz was warned that unless Damascus was surrendered by that hour it would be attacked by the entire Allied forces.

Earlier General Sir Maitland Wilson broadcast a message saying that unless the Vichy troops are withdrawn from the city an attack would start at dawn.")

Allies Smash Through.

CAIRO, June 19.—Allied forces, backed by an intensive RAF aerial offensive, smashed through to "important positions" just south of Damascus, an official announcement said late today.

Moving up under cover of an RAF attack which raked defensive Vichy positions which had been "holding up the advance of our troops," the Allied forces were credited with strategic gains in the first day of the actual advance against Damascus itself.

Coinciding with these successes, an official statement said Allied troops had reoccupied the fortress of Qenitra and had surrounded strong Vichy forces at Merj Ayoun.

WILD RUMORS OF GERMAN-SOVIET CLASHES HEARD

had a holiday banner-lining the most spectacular of the swirl of war reports.

Studio Brawl

None was more spectacular than a radio broadcast from Helsinki, Finland, picked up in London. It apparently resulted in a studio brawl.

Angry voices and a scuffle were heard shortly after the Helsinki announcer said:

"The day of liberation is at hand. The sorrow of the Finnish campaign (the Russo-Finnish war) in which our heroic country succumbed to brutal numbers is about to be wiped away. We look forward confidently."

The hand which gave Finland liberty (a reference to Germany's terms to Russia under the treaty of Brest-Litovsk) is again raised to help Finland.

From Tiflis in Georgian Russia, London radio listeners picked up a broadcast stating that a "certain power" is attempting to reconquer the Bessarabian territory which the Soviet Union recently took from Rumania under an agreement with Germany.

Intensive Soviet Mobilization

Dispatch from Stockholm quoted travelers arriving at Helsinki from Russia as telling of intensive Soviet mobilization.

But in the midst of this cascade of rumor, seasoned observers recalled similar instances in the past in which "planted" announcements have been used by interested governments in a "war of nerves."

The authoritative British Press Association said the reports were absolutely no confirmation of reports that Rumania and Germany have begun military operations against Russia or presented an ultimatum to the Soviet. It suggested that all such rumors be treated with "utmost reserve."

One report had it that Rumania, on behalf of Germany had presented an ultimatum to Moscow demanding return of Bessarabia, seized from Rumania by Russia some months ago.

Rumors Soviet and Nazis at War

London, June 19.—The air waves of Europe were flooded today with a bedlam of rumor and report purporting to show that Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia are at war.

For propaganda purposes, or possibly from sheer hysteria, broadcasters in various capitals of Europe poured into London a series of sensational and spectacular reports which British newspapermen splashed under banner headlines.

But neither from Berlin nor Moscow came the slightest hint that anything but friendly relations still prevailed.

However, in an English-language broadcast, the Moscow radio assailed Turkey for signing what the announcer termed a "so-called friendship treaty" with Germany. "This pact," it was said, "completes subjugation of the Balkans 'to an interest inimical to socialism.'"

He said that "it is impossible" to restrict the drafting powers to specific articles, as proposed by Senator Lodge (R) Mass., a member of the committee.

"The President must have these powers if our defense program is to succeed," Pepper said, "and Congress must trust him to exercise them for the benefit of the country."

Senator Downey (D) Calif., a member of the committee, called for additional testimony on the bill after terming it "a step toward a military dictatorship." He said that it would authorize the government to freeze the small manufacturer and businessman out of the defense program in favor of "the big fellow."

On the WPA road building project on Chestnut street, which extends from East Washington street to Ray street, it is expected the curbing will be completed today, and the stone base for the street has been laid for the greater part of the distance. It was necessary for the water company to lower the main at some points between Spruce and Ray streets.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR REV. MRS. SHEARER

Honoring Rev. and Mrs. Thomas B. Shearer and the latter's mother, Mrs. James E. Hamlet, who are moving soon to Philadelphia, members of the Central Christian congregation gathered in the church Wednesday evening for a farewell reception.

Frank Norris had charge of the program which opened with the singing of several hymns by the assembly. An address was delivered by Rev. A. M. Stump, president of the New Castle Ministerial Association, who spoke in behalf of that group. Short talks were given, also, by Rev. James Smith, pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church, and Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church. A feature was a vocal solo by Betty Hogue.

Miss Mary Sherger gave a short talk and presented Rev. and Mrs. Shearer with a beautiful study desk, complete with lamp, pen and pencil set, on behalf of the congregation. Gracious responses were given by both Rev. and Mrs. Shearer.

Afterwards, the group went to the church dining room where delicious refreshments were served and an informal social period was enjoyed.

Rev. Shearer has accepted the pastorate of the Christian church in Philadelphia and expects to take up his duties there about July 1.

SACCOMANNI SISTERS HAVE DOUBLE WEDDING

Featuring the social calendar of spring weddings was the double wedding ceremony performed this morning in St. Lucy's church, uniting in marriage Miss Sara Saccomanni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giosue Saccomanni, of 10 South Liberty street, and Homer E. Toddy, son of Mrs. Rose Soccia of Ellwood City; also Miss Victoria Saccomanni, a sister, and Domenick A. Medure, son of Mrs. Jennie Medure of East Home street.

Before an altar, beautifully arranged with palms and ferns, vows were exchanged by the two couples in the presence of a host of friends. The Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito officiated, using the single ring service. Appropriate selections were sung by Elizabeth Blundo during the services, and organists were: Ruth Weir and Rose Martin.

For her wedding, Sara was lovely in a gown of white marquisette, with sweetheart neckline, full skirt and long train and puff sleeves. Her long veil was caught with a crown of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PARENTS MAY SACRIFICE TOO MUCH

A mother writes me the following letter:

"Dear Dr. Myers—I have three sons, to whom I was ambitious to give a fair start in life. This seemed to me to involve a developed mind (a college education) which we could not afford, but which by dint of mental, physical and social training I managed to contrive out of poverty.

"I thought them worthy and looked forward to the friendship and companionship they would give me afterwards in their mature years, which I felt would abundantly compensate me. But they did not write me! I had not wanted to let them see the wheels go round, as it were, so had never let them know how dearly I paid, or how heavily for I believed education necessary for them, and did not want things 'balled up' by their refusal to accept.

"When they were very young I read stories to them—so many, as you say, I was too busy striving for them, to have time to teach them to consider me or my happiness. Working used up all my strength long ere the day ended, so that I had none to live on. Practically every day was finished on nerve force, which made me cross, indeed, most of the time.

"Great Task of Motherhood
"I never received help or cooperation or consideration from my husband. Should not such teachers as you teach men that motherhood (building personality, the greatest thing in the universe) is a great task, so worthy that time and leisure should be provided for her, as well as suitable training?

"But what have I failed to teach my sons, with the result that they now regard their youth as a closed episode—finished? And when I was their true friend and protector, why could they leave me so regardlessly?

"They objected to my writing as a mother, chiding or censuring. Nor will they, when they write, do more than perfunctory writing—never sharing the knowledge of their work or praise or problems with me. And I feel robbed of my compensation.

"Am I wrong? Neglect is terrible to bear, for they are so far away that I never have the money to visit them even. Two are in New York City and one in Montana."

No Use to Condemn

Here is how I answered this mother:

"Your letter touches me very much indeed. I think you have very keenly analyzed the source of your problem; namely, that you have made too many sacrifices for your children. Of course you did it out of the goodness of your great heart.

"However, if you wish to get these children to write to you, be sure to avoid condemning them for their neglect. Though they deserve the condemnation, it wouldn't bring you good results. Just write them regularly, in as affectionate manner as you can, hoping that they will reply promptly, but without begging them to do so.

"I will help you, I believe, and make you happier, if you map out a course of reading of the kind you will enjoy, and that will give you something outside of your trouble to think about and talk about. Join an active club that is intellectually stimulating. To keep mentally and emotionally healthy, you must find means of expressing yourself and using the native talents which you obviously possess.

"I hope that young mothers will profit from reading your letter, from which I shall quote. You certainly have my most sincere good wishes."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FRIENDSHIP COURAGE

He never felt ashamed to say what many won't admit.
That he had seen another's work and highly valued it.
He never thought it silly to speak out a word of cheer.
While the one it might encourage was about where he could hear.

When we called him sentimental in reply he often said:
He thought it rather futile sending roses to the dead.
And he thought it rather idle to be fond of someone near.
And not say a word about it till you stood beside his bier.

He wondered how the notion ever struck the human mind
It was folly to be gracious and a weakness to be kind;
Why to dead men go the plaudits which the living are denied.
And why fondness for another is a thing we ought to hide?

All I know is this about him: Those he met along his way
Found encouragement and comfort in the things he chose to say.
For the proof they had his friendship; they were never forced to seek.
Since he'd told them so in praise he was not afraid to speak.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:32. Sun rises tomorrow 4:31.

Very often when people do not do a good business they are themselves to blame for it. Dead but not buried.

Wonder what they talk about at a postmaster's convention other than politics?

When you see an ad in a newspaper telling that some one will not be responsible for any debts except those contracted by himself, you can get a good idea who is meant.

It's all right to have a few wrinkles in your face, but it's a good thing to try to not have any in your heart.

GOOD AND BAD LUCK

Good Luck is the gayest of all gay girls.
Long in one place she will not stay.
Back from your brow she strokes the curls.
Kisses you quick and flies away.

But Madame Bad Luck soberly comes
And stays—no fancy has she for flitting.
Snatches of true love-songs she hums.
And sits by your bed, and brings

It is declared that baldheaded men are healthier, will live longer than men with plenty of hair. We will take plenty of hair in spite of that.

It's a cinch to see other men's faults.

He: "I'm thinking of asking some girl to marry me. What do you think of the idea?"
She: "It's a grand idea, if you ask me."

You and I don't matter. It's the good of all that counts.

The man who is too big to study his job is as big as he will ever be.

ELECTION RESULTS

An American was defeated ignominiously when he ran for the office of sheriff. He got 55 votes out of a total of 3,500, and the next day he walked down Main Street with two guns hanging from his belt.

"You were not elected and you have no right to carry guns," fellow citizens told him.
"Listen, folks," he replied, "a man with no more friends than I've got in this county needs to carry guns."

When a beauty gets looks of admiration from the males she gets glares from the less fortunate females.

Not to plead with a man to increase or renew his attentions.
To give men every appearance of being "hard to get".
To employ always the technique of the spider that lures its prey to it, rather than of the shark that pursues it. That the "safety in numbers" rule is a good one when rambling around in the bright lights. In other words, to travel in small crowds of several couples who will look out for one another.

To acquire some talent for dancing, music, golf, tennis, bridge. To keep abreast of the vital news of the day and not merely give voice to echoes like: "As Jack says about the Nazis" or "As Dad says about the Republicans".

Question: What kind of gift should be sent to a bride. I have just received a wedding invitation.
—Mrs. Stupid.
Answer: Any of the numerous articles used in furnishing a home—china, lamps, linen, silver, any item of furniture will be appropriate gifts. Unless you are familiar with the bride's taste, you had better not give her any pictures. We all have very definite ideas along this line. Your gift must, of course, be addressed to the bride and sent to her home, as soon as possible after receipt of the invitation.

HAPPY GROUP

Have you heard the story of the three little girls sent out of London who found a new home at a farmhouse? They asked to be allowed to share the same room. Their hosts agreed, and one of the girls wrote home jubilantly:

"We have dogs and calves and horses and pigs and cows and chickens and we all sleep in the same room."

It is claimed the noiseless automobile is coming. We would like to hear one.

Good Taste

By W. E. Patent Office

"Although I am only 39, my daughter calls me 'dated' when I remind her of the social obligations and code of behavior demanded of me by my mother who was socially active and by no means prudish. I would appreciate some advice from you on this subject."—E. V. M.

Answer: Should your daughter attend one of the very fashionable finishing schools whose function it is to prepare girls for debuts in ultra-modern society, she would be taught these indispensable:

Absolute courtesy to her parents and other elders whether in or out of her family.
To include no familiarities in her letters to men.
To be punctilious in speaking to all people to whom she has been introduced and in answering letters and invitations.

To never visit a man's apartment or go on an overnight automobile trip with him unless others are present—preferably others of responsible age.

Never to make herself conspicuous by loud talking or boy-dish actions in public places.
Not to plead with a man to increase or renew his attentions.
To give men every appearance of being "hard to get".

To employ always the technique of the spider that lures its prey to it, rather than of the shark that pursues it. ON A ROUTINE TRIP

The irate parent stormed up and down the room before the trembling suitor.

"Do you mean to say," he shouted, "that you came to my office to ask for my daughter's hand? I might as well be frank with you and tell you that you could have saved yourself a journey."

"Oh, that's all right," sighed the suitor. "I had another message to deliver in the same building."

A bird was asked why he bought the suit he was wearing said "I talked when I should have been listening and looking." A lot of people are afflicted the same way.

A Hollywood actress got a divorce from her husband for "cruelty entirely mental in character." She evidently did not like the way he looked at her.

Little Tommy: "So you're my grandmother, are you?"
Grandma: "Yes, dear, on your father's side."
Tommy: "Well, I'll tell you right now, you're on the wrong side!"

When there are articles in a newspaper in Germany that Hitler don't like he stops it being circulated. There are birds in this country who would also like to do the same thing.

No matter when the world collapses, if ever, it is probable that millions of people will be caught with unpaid charge accounts.

Teacher: "Now, Junior, in the Smith family there are mother daddy, and the baby. How many does that make?"
Junior: "Two, and one to carry."

That busy little bee stuff never did appeal to us. And less than ever, after being reminded that they work themselves to death in two months.

Might is temporary. Right is as permanent as truth.

Tommy came out of a room in which his father was tacking down carpets. He was crying lustily.
"Why, Tommy, what's the matter?" asked his mother.
"Papa hit his finger with the hammer," sobbed Tommy.

"Well, you needn't cry at a little thing like that," comforted the mother. "Why didn't you laugh?"
Between his sobs, she made out a muffled, "I did!"

One thing is dead sure. People who get married will live happily or scrappily together.

Native: "Yes, but they charge 50 cents for doing it."

Peace is the greatest protection women and children can have.

A New York woman nominated her son-in-law for the "typical father" contest and he won. Another blow to the mean old mother-in-law joke.

DOUBLE TALK
Down South a Negro woman was buying eggs in a store run by another Negro.
"Is dese aigs fresh?" she asked.
The salesman replied, "I se not sayin' dey ain't."

To which she countered, "I ain't askin' ye ain't dey ain't, I se askin' is dey is?"

Death and taxes aren't alike. Death never takes another crack at you after you're dead.

After getting the W.P.A. habit, it's a wonder citizens aren't saying: "Might as well get our share of war; we have to pay for it, anyway."

Why Let Hitler Monopolize Fifth Column Democracies Might Reciprocate On Plan Conquered Lands Would Be Susceptible

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 19.

Why let Herr Hitler have a monopoly of fifth columnizing? Why shouldn't the democracies fifth columnize against him reciprocally? He'd be very vulnerable to it, according to plenty of reports the state department receives from Europe.

It stands to reason that the countries he has conquered would be tremendously susceptible to it—Poland, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Greece. There also are the countries that he hasn't had to conquer forcibly, having scared 'em into submission—Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria. There's France, too. Its Vichy government is turning more and more pro-Axis, but the French rank and file aren't, to a certainty. Even the Vichy folk aren't sincere, of course, with the possible exception of a few individuals like Pierre Leval and Admiral Darlan—and the admiral's more anti-English than he is pro-German.

The attitude of General de Gaulle's Free French, actually fighting alongside the British against the Axis, speaks for itself. Furthermore, news comes from William D. Leahy, our diplomatic envoy at Vichy, that he's simply deluged with letters from ordinary citizens of both unoccupied and occupied France, denouncing the Axis and the Vichy government for collaborating with it. A lot of 'em are said to be "form letters," indicating that this correspondence campaign is regularly organized, and it's obvious how strongly their authors must feel, or they wouldn't have the nerve to mail 'em.

And Italy appears to be ripe for fifth columnizing. The fact is that, evidently, the Italians are as much conquered by the Nazis as the French or the Dutch or the Poles are, and it's becoming quite apparent that they realize it. Some good fifth columnists might stir 'em up to turning mighty ugly.

Possibility in Russia
Russia, while of course anything but democratic, shows signs of increasing anti-Naziism. Fifth columnists perhaps could do a bit of useful unkinging in Soviet-dom's midst. It hardly could do anything toward undermining Joe Stalin, but it could split him off from Herr Hitler, and then the pair could be attended to separately.

If Adolf isn't headed off in the meantime, the chances are that, before long, he'll annex Dictator Franco of Spain as a partner. Senator Franco, though, is bitterly hated by approximately half, at least, of his fellow Spaniards. Competent fifth columnizing ought to succeed in stirring up a revolt against him, forestalling a junction between himself and the Fuehrer.

And finally there are pretty dependable rumors that there's considerable discontent with Adolf right in Germany. It's frightfully undercover, necessarily, but fanning it, if possible, would be extremely advantageous.

It's hard to recall now, but it's of record that there were liberty-loving Germans who, long ago, resented kaiserism, which wasn't nearly as bad as Naziism, and came over here to the United States.

Nearing The Brink

WASHINGTON, June 19.

BEFORE this is printed the United States may have sent its official protest to Germany concerning the sinking of the Robin Moor. However, it now seems accepted generally that that will not furnish the "incident" for which it was said the President was waiting before putting the American Navy into full cooperation with the British to end the submarine menace and win the Battle of the Atlantic.

The note from this government to Germany, which is expected any day, is certain to be a stern and unequivocal indictment of (from our standpoint) a brutal, unprovoked and indefensible act. For the moment, it is overshadowed by the President's action in closing the German consulates and ordering from the country the small army of German nationalists who were using their diplomatic connection to spread propaganda "inimical to this country," but that action is in no way connected with the Moor affair. On the contrary, it had been under consideration for weeks, and the President would have been fully justified in acting a long time ago. It will not affect one way or the other, the Robin Moor protest.

IN that note, it is believed, there will be no mincing of words. The protest will be in tune with the recent blunt and belligerent utterances and acts of the President, Mr. Hull, Mr. Knox, Mr. Welles and other administration spokesmen who have given forth on the American attitude. But there will be no action beyond a threatening protest. At least this is the view of the best-informed of our State Department officials. And it would have been their view had not the passengers of the Robin Moor been rescued. The fact that no lives were lost naturally diminishes American resentment and detracts from the force of what we otherwise would have said, but it does not fundamentally change our position. Even had the 30 and more survivors not reached Cape Town, our action still would have been confined to a protest, a warning and a demand for indemnity.

HAD there been the loss of life which at first seemed likely, protest, warning and demand all would (Continued On Page Five)

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt issues a warning to young women:
"If a girl takes a drink at all she should be extremely careful. It is never wise to take one with an individual or in groups she does not know well."

MEXICO CITY—Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla reaffirms Mexico's pledge of cooperation in western hemisphere defense:
"We shall know how to carry out with loyalty and with honor our agreements with all countries of America."

NEW YORK—Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada describes his country's war effort:
"It is an out and out free will offering—a gift to the hard-pressed people of Britain, gladly and proudly made to assist them in maintaining the world's citadel of freedom and in fighting freedom's battles in other parts of the world."

VICHY—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, urges Frenchmen to banish fears:
"Come to me with confidence and together we shall get out of the night into which your frightful venture has plunged you."

BIRTHDAYS OF FAMOUS AMERICANS
(Compiled by Encyclopedia Britannica)

JUNE 19

1826—Charles Loring Brace, philanthropist, at Litchfield, Conn. He became well known as a social reformer both at home and abroad. He helped to found the Children's Aid society in 1853.

1836—Thomas Benton Brooks, geologist and mining engineer, at Monroe, N. Y. He had charge of the economic division of the state geological survey of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The report he wrote in 1873 is a manual of information relating to the finding, extracting, transporting, and smelting of the iron ores of the Lake Superior region.

1858—Sam Walter Foss, poet, journalist and humorist, at Canada, N. H. Some of his better known poems are "Bark Country Poems," "Winifs From Wild Meadows," and "Dreams in Homespun."

URGE EARLY COAL BUYING

THREATS of American coal and oil shortages cannot be shaken off by comforting reminders that there are prodigious resources under the surface of this affluent land. The stores are there all right, but defense demands will tax transportation facilities so heavily that sufficient quantities of the fuel cannot be moved to the consumer.

The President has made Harold Ickes oil coordinator; the prospect of "gasless" Sundays has been brought home to the people; various means of economizing on gasoline consumption have been suggested, and now the nation's householders are urged to lay in next winter's coal supply this summer.

An official of the Consumers Council, a government agency created to protect bituminous coal users, says that "purchasing and storing of substantial tonnages during the summer will lighten the peak that movement of crops and national defense production will throw upon the transportation system beginning next September."

That's the story. Householders who ignore the plea may find living conditions on the chilly side next winter, particularly in northern sectors remote from coal mines. The frigid blasts seem distant on this June day, but they are inevitable.

Another element in this appeal should be noted. The request transcends the mere admonition to the householder to look to his comfort. It should be interpreted as an appeal to the homeowner to cooperate in freeing for the defense effort all possible transportation media.

Last-minute cries by the householder for fuel next fall will further complicate the gigantic defense task, an effort which will reach the point of adequacy with a speed directly proportionate to the harmony of operation.

Thus the consumer who heeds the summer coal-buying request is patriotic as well as wisely foresighted.

ANOTHER LINK SEVERED

Another link with the past was severed with the death in New Jersey of Blanche Chapman Ford. She was the widow of Harry Clay Ford whom she married in 1874.

The night Lincoln was assassinated in Ford's Theater, Washington, Ford brought a big armchair from his home and placed it in the Presidential box. After the assassination the government seized the chair and used it at the trial of the conspirators.

Although she was not married to Ford at the time of the tragedy, Mrs. Ford knew about that chair. In 1928 she put in a claim for it and several months later it was handed over to her.

On December 17, 1929, the chair, together with the playbill which lay on President Lincoln's knee was sold in New York for $2,400.

OIL PIPELINES

Petroleum pipeline projects from the Texas fields to the Atlantic coast cities of the Northeast support the prediction that present war conditions are to be prolonged and also emphasize the nation's dependence on the interior.

The prodigious pipelines the government purposes to construct from the pools in the Lone Star state to Philadelphia, crossing Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania will take a year to complete under the most favorable circumstances. There will be two conduits, one for crude and the other for gasoline.

Right-of-way acquisitions must wait on Congressional action, but when the line is in operation it can carry 475,000 barrels a day. The quantity of oil the Northeastern markets will be short this winter is forecast to be 200,000 barrels daily. It is this fact which supports the talk of rationing, with gasolineless Sundays until the new pipeline is ready.

All regions in the United States, except the Northeastern part, can be locally supplied with this indispensable fuel. California pools meet the Pacific Coast needs; Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas supply mid-continent requirements; Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and Michigan take care of the North Central states and Louisiana and Mississippi the South Central states.

The industrial corner of the nation—the Northeast—alone lacks independence in this important item.

MASS ARMY, OR MECHANIZED?

Anything that Representative Ross A. Collins of Mississippi has to say about the kind of army that the United States ought to have merits respectful attention, for Representative Collins was a pioneer among American legislators as an advocate of mechanization and motorization of the army. In the current issue of the Readers' Digest he puts and answers the question, "Do We Want a Mass Army?" His answer is an emphatic negative. He insists that the United States should stop drafting men by the million and should concentrate on developing a smaller mechanized and armored army. His description of the army of today is that of "young men in cantonments learning to fight yesterday's war" under the tutelage of officers, many of whom do not think

County Camporee At Scout Camp On Friday - Saturday

Annual Week-End Camping
Project For County Scout
Troops Is Planned

Lawrence County Boy Scout camp, located near Rose Point will be the place for the annual Boy Scout Camporee, an over-night camping project, designed to teach the scouts to camp in a safe and sanitary manner.

Various scout groups will move into the camp on Friday, June 20, and remain there until Saturday, June 21. Teams taking part in the camporee will be those who participated in the various district camporees held during the past two weeks.

Several years ago, the camporee project was originated in this region and since that time it has been adopted by scout councils all over the United States.

The camporee works as follows: Scoutmasters choose patrols to represent their troops and see that these patrols get what equipment they can. When the camporee date arrives, the patrols move into their camp sites and prepare to spend the night.

All of the camping activities are judged and standards are set-up. The best patrols in the camporee will be selected at the end of the second day.

The boys will prepare their own meals and arrange their own menus, and everything must be approved by the camporee committee.

Sherwood Brown On Government Job At Panama City, Fla.

Local Youth Is Inspection Supervisor At New Gunny School In Florida

Mrs. Elmer Amos, of 204 South Crawford avenue, has received word from her son, Sherwood Brown, telling of his recent appointment as inspection supervisor in charge of field construction of the new army gunny school barracks and airport at Panama City, Fla.

Brown, a former member of the local state highway department staff, worked on the Pennsylvania Turnpike before its completion, and his last job in Pennsylvania was at Johnstown where he inspected construction of the river control project.

The former local youth joined the U. S. Army Engineers in July of 1940. At present he supervises all inspection on the defense job at Panama City.

to get away from it. I've wondered if this spirit has entirely evaporated and have consulted several very reliable sources on the subject, with resultant assurance that the old sentiment is still simmering—only, today, there practically is no place for the malcontents to emigrate to, as there was when we welcomed Carl Shurzes and General Sigels, back in the 1840's.

So, why, right in the Fatherland, wouldn't some intensive fifth columnist be beneficial?—though there's no denying that it would be darned risky.

The adverse argument is that, at this stage of the world, about a corporal's guard of machine gunners, faithful to a dictator, can suppress a popular uprising against him, no matter how sizable the would-be revolt.

Remember Russia?

Yet I can remember when a revolution in czarist Russia was described as an equally hopeless venture. It occurred, nevertheless. To be sure, it didn't result in any improvement. It was pulled off, all the same. And it might have been a good thing if the Muscovites hadn't been so uncivilized.

Anyway, Herr Hitler's regime floats on a sea of what must be such bottomless furious hostility to him that it can't but require a big enough storm to swamp him.

And HIS fifth columnists have been successful enough at blowing up comparatively local storms to suggest that a sufficient number of democratic ones, blowing in HIS direction, should create a tempest that'll send him to the bottom.

Beating him by a method that HE invented would be humorous.

British War Relief Society Will Nominate

Election Meeting Will Take Place Friday Evening, Pictures To Be Shown

Lawrence county unit of the British War Relief society will have a special meeting in the Congregational church, Reynolds street, on Friday, June 20, at 8 p. m. The main business of the evening will be the nomination of officers for the ensuing year. In addition several reels of movies recently received from England will be shown. In order to add to contributions previously received to provide for the maintenance of the two mobile kitchens sent overseas by this unit, an ice cream social is planned on the Congregational church lawn for Tuesday, June 24.

During the campaign for the collection of funds on behalf of the United Service Organizations of the New York office of the British War Relief society has requested that all units refrain from starting any new or special drives for funds for the British war relief in order that full support might be given to the local committee for the U. S. O. The Lawrence county unit has been glad to co-operate with this request.

Need for relief in Britain continues unabated and every effort possible is being made to carry on. The splendid work already accomplished by the members of the Lawrence county unit is being continued in the many various forms of relief undertakings such as knitting, sewing, collections of good used clothing, even discarded felt hats in any condition have a reclaim value which is being applied to general funds for the society. All work is of a volunteer nature, expenses are kept at a minimum and by virtue of the neutrality act no special activity sponsored by any unit of the organization is permitted to operate with expenses of that activity in excess of 33-1/3 per cent. Actually the national overhead for the operation of the British War Relief society is but 7 per cent.

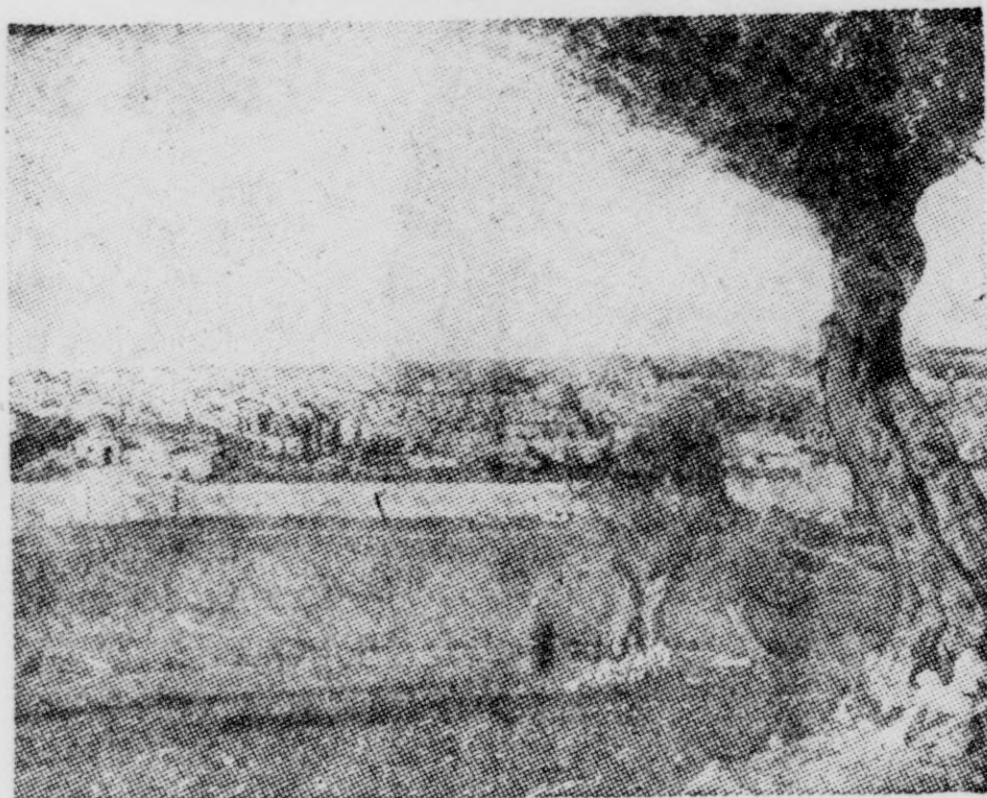

Officers are maintained without expense to the Lawrence county unit at room 307, Lawrence Savings & Trust building, New Castle.

The standard-type parachute is designed to open in 1 3-5 seconds.

First Jerusalem Conference On World Missions

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Jerusalem

"But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they."—Acts 15:11.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 22 is Acts 15:1-35. Gal. 2, the Golden Text being Acts 15:11. "But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they.")

WHILE PAUL and Barnabas "abode long time with the disciples" in Antioch, trouble makers were coming from Judaea. These men were Jews who insisted that in order to belong to the Christian church, Gentiles should obey the Jewish laws that had come down to the Jews from the time of Moses.

Isn't it odd that practically no group of people can continue long working together, even in a religious community, without someone "starting something"—getting some idea of what shall be done which makes dissension?

Now this idea of making the Gentiles who joined the church into Jews was repugnant to Paul and Barnabas, who saw clearly that it was not certain laws that certain people of a race obeyed that made a man a Christian, but the acceptance of the Lord Jesus and His message and the gift of the Holy Ghost. These things showed that they were accepted of God, whether they were Jews or Gentiles.

Paul and Barnabas argued with these men and finally it was decided that these two and "certain others" should go to Jerusalem, where the apostles and leaders of the church lived, and settle the matter at the first conference of the early church concerning missionary matters.

Preached On The Way
These men stopped in various cities on their way to Jerusalem, preaching and converting Gentiles, and causing much joy to the brethren. When they came to Jerusalem they were received by the apostles and elders, and then all the things that God had done with them since they were in the city last.

At a meeting certain Pharisees who were converted brought up the matter of the Gentiles obeying the Jewish laws. It was needed for them so to do, these men said, or they could not really be Christians. Then Peter rose up. He was almost always the first one to speak among the apostles. Peter, Paul and Barnabas were all good Jews, you know, but Peter said of the Gentiles, "God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as He did unto us."

He also pointed out that it would constitute a hardship to the Gentiles to be compelled to obey these laws, and he must have realized, too, the trouble and rebellion it would cause in the church. Such a controversy might easily destroy it.

Following Peter, Paul and Barnabas had their say, and you may be sure they agreed with Peter. James spoke next and he suggested that they write to the Gentiles and ask them to "abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornications, and from things strangled, and from blood."

This pleased the apostles and elders, and they chose Paul and Barnabas and some of their own company to carry the letter to the Gentile Christians at Antioch. So they wrote letters "after this manner," and the chosen disciples carried the letters to Antioch. St. Luke tells us that "Paul and Barnabas continued in Antioch teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also."

Danger Is Averted
Thus was a danger averted from the early church and the loving, co-operative spirit of Jesus and His apostles preserved. One other argument arose later on this same subject, which is told in Gallatians 2. Peter, it seems, was chided by certain elements in the church with eating and meeting with uncircumcised Gentiles. Peter gave way, but Paul chided him. "I withstood him to his face," says St. Paul in his letter to the Galatians, "because he was to be blamed."

"I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?"

Then Paul sums up his religious feelings thus: "Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law; for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified."

And again, "I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me."

BROTHERS CALLED IN COMING DRAFT
June 28th's contingent of men from Local Board No. 1, of the City of New Castle, will include two brothers, John Joseph and William Luke Flynn, sons of Mrs. Julia Flynn, of 19 North Beaver street, a widow.

The numbers of the two brothers came close together in the draft, and they were pronounced 100 per cent physically, when examined recently at the Pittsburgh medical center. Thus the two will go away together, a week from Saturday.

Canadian-Trained Fliers Use Tactics Of Football

By JANE COCHRAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 19.—Boat loads of football players are leaving Canada for England as fast as they can be shipped.

Football players? Yes. They're Canadian-trained airmen. They use the tactics of the football field in battling the enemy in the skies over Britain.

One coach—and the man who is credited in Canada with introducing football plays into the Royal Air Force—is Wing Commander Ernest McNab.

Sandy-haired, stocky McNab, Canada's air hero of the present war and leader of the first all-Canadian fighter squadron in the battle over Britain, thinks of the fighting in terms of football plays.

"The whole thing is teamwork," he said. "One had built up becomes an individualist and you've got to attack as a complete unit in modern fighting."

"There are no prima donnas in this present war," he said. "The pride in the aces of the last war has been replaced by the appreciation of the daily job of all the men. It's not the individual ball-carrier but the team that wins the game."

McNab's exploits have won him the distinguished flying cross but he refuses to name the number of enemy planes to his credit.

"You find one man and it's your job to take him out," he said. "But in the next instance, your own men have to come to your rescue. You have to work in combination."

McNab fought in England from May until October, then was brought back to Canada to aid in the vast empire training program being conducted there. This mass production scheme has already turned out 30,000 airmen, according to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, and thousands more are being rapidly sent abroad—men who have been brought from the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and recruited in Canada.

Twelve Counties In New Castle N. Y. A. Area

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Pa., June 19.—Elimination of present district National Youth Administration offices and consolidation of county offices into nine area offices will be effected July 1, beginning of the 1941-1942 fiscal year for the federal youth agency.

According to Isaac C. Sutton, State NYA Administrator, the move will be made in the interest of administrative and supervisory economy so as to facilitate and speed up the handling of the expanded national defense program now being undertaken throughout the state, especially in the industrial sections. The reorganization will also provide for a more efficient and direct operation of the general NYA program, especially in the rural and semi-rural areas.

At present NYA maintains three district offices, located in Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, and Philadelphia, and 37 county or county-unit offices in nine area offices. This will also serve to reduce the State Administrative staff.

In announcing the proposed change, Mr. Sutton said, "Creation of the nine NYA areas will permit a more elastic handling of the NYA program especially during the present time when speed is a watchword of all the agencies concerned with the defense program. Much of the supervisory and great deal of administrative control will be decentralized in the area offices permitting quick and efficient action in the problems of placing youth at work and preparing them for private industry."

The state youth chief also pointed out that the new areas have been formed in so far as possible, to conform to economic, industrial, and geographic lines as well as with careful reference to the number of youth and the need for NYA help.

"In making the new areas," he said, "all things were considered which would afford means for more closely integrating the resources of NYA."

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., June 19.—Federal and state labor conciliators conferred with union and company officials today in an effort to end the four-day-old strike which closed the Piper Aircraft Corporation plant.

Production of planes used by the government in training civilian pilots, meantime, has been halted by the walkout called by A. F. of L. machinists Monday following the collapse of negotiations on wage increases.

State troopers, requested by Sheriff D. Edward Grenoble, continued to patrol the plant as the conferees met to iron out the differences. A few of the more than 1,000 workers entered the plant unimpeded.

Participating in the conference were Frank E. Walsh, commissioner of the U. S. bureau of conciliation, U. S. department of labor; Patrick Ramey of the state department of labor and industry; V. S. Gauthier, International Association of Machinists, and W. T. Piper, Sr., and W. T. Piper, Jr., president and vice president of the corporation, respectively.

It is not too late to make additional plantings of beets, carrots, lettuce, radishes in order to have a succession. In many sections, these vegetables may be planted until the first of July.

"Great Battle," Hanlon Reports

Conn Does Better Than Expected In Fight With Joe Louis

FOR CONN'S DEFEAT

Bernard Hanlon arrived home to-day after witnessing Joe Louis score a technical knockout over Billy Conn in the thirteenth round last night at the Polo grounds, New York City.

"It was one of the greatest fights I have ever seen. Were it possible, every fan who watched Louis and Conn last night would be willing to see them box again next week."

"Conn did much better than expected. He fought Louis toe-to-toe and exchanged punches with the champion," said Hanlon.

"Conn kept Louis off balance throughout and was on the way to win when the 'thing' happened."

"Coming out of a clinch Louis caught Conn with a short left to the chin. This paved the way for a right. Louis then fired a volley of rights and lefts."

"Conn went down. At nine he was up. However, the referee, Eddie Josephs, stopped the fight, two seconds before the bell would have ended the thirteenth round."

"It was a good fight to watch. Everyone was pleased. It was the first time anyone had met Louis 'head-on,' stood up to him and also kept Louis off balance. Conn did this throughout the fight."

"Conn was cautious in the early round and used his left hook to perfection to keep Louis off. Billy kept moving to his left, would side-step, then work in close."

President Roosevelt's Message Is Heard At Harvard Commencement Exercises

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 19.—Americans "would rather die on their feet than live on their knees," President Roosevelt declared today in a message read at the commencement exercises of Harvard University, his alma mater.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement, read by one of his aides in his absence, marked precedent-shattering ceremonies at which Oxford University through the British ambassador, Lord Halifax—simultaneously held a special convocation and awarded the nation's chief executive an honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law.

Although unable to appear personally, Mr. Roosevelt had Major-General Edwin M. Watson of the White House secretariat read a statement in which the president took issue with Germany's bombing of England's historic institutions. Mr. Roosevelt cited the Nazi bombing of the altar of Westminster Abbey and the house of commons' chamber in parliament as symbolization of "the objectives of the dictator and the pagan."

MUST INSTALL SIGNALS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 19.—The public utility commission today disclosed it has granted the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad an extension of time until August 1 to complete the installation of flashing light signals and auxiliary protection at the railroad's grade crossing in Erie. The work was to have been completed by May 1.

Government Asks Oil And Gas Prices Remain Unchanged

Would Have Prices Frozen At Present Levels It Is Revealed At Parley

By ARTHUR HERMANN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The government today disclosed that it has asked the petroleum industry to freeze gasoline and oil prices at their present levels.

Announcement was made by Leon Henderson, federal price control administrator, in a speech to representatives of the industry gathered in Washington to confer on problems arising out of national defense needs and the present threat of "gasolineless Sundays" on the Atlantic seaboard.

Henderson said that he had dispatched letters to all leading refiners and marketers of petroleum products asking that no further price advances be made, and if any should be contemplated to give the government "reasonable notice." Whether Henderson plans to follow this up with threats of legal action if compliance is not obtained, he did not say, but in similar cases affecting other industries he has consistently voiced such a threat.

The only exceptions in the petroleum industry that will be tolerated, Henderson indicated, will be where oil companies can clearly prove cost increases justify price advances.

Muny Court Not Collection Agency In Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Unhappily wed couples from "any part of the universe" can no longer use the Philadelphia municipal court as a "collection agency," according to an edict by Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell.

The jurist so ruled in dismissing a support action by Maude Kirkwood, beauty operator, of Daytona, Fla. She filed suit against her estranged husband, Joe Kirkwood, noted golf professional at nearby Huntingdon Valley Country club. Neither ever lived in Philadelphia.

"By no process of reasoning," decreed Judge Bonniwell, "can it be held that litigants from any part of the universe can drop into Philadelphia and upon service of a summons upon the defendant who happens to be visiting here, saddle the costs of proceedings on Philadelphia taxpayers."

Would Increase Highway Speed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19.—The Senate today placed in position for initial consideration Monday a measure boosting the speed limit on Pennsylvania highways from 50 to 60 miles an hour and reducing the license suspension period from three months to two.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. George M. Wade, Cumberland County, proposes a $25 fine or a five-day jail term for the first violation, suspension of the license for 60 days for the second violation, and suspension of the license for six months for each subsequent violation. The bill does not provide for the revocation of licenses.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

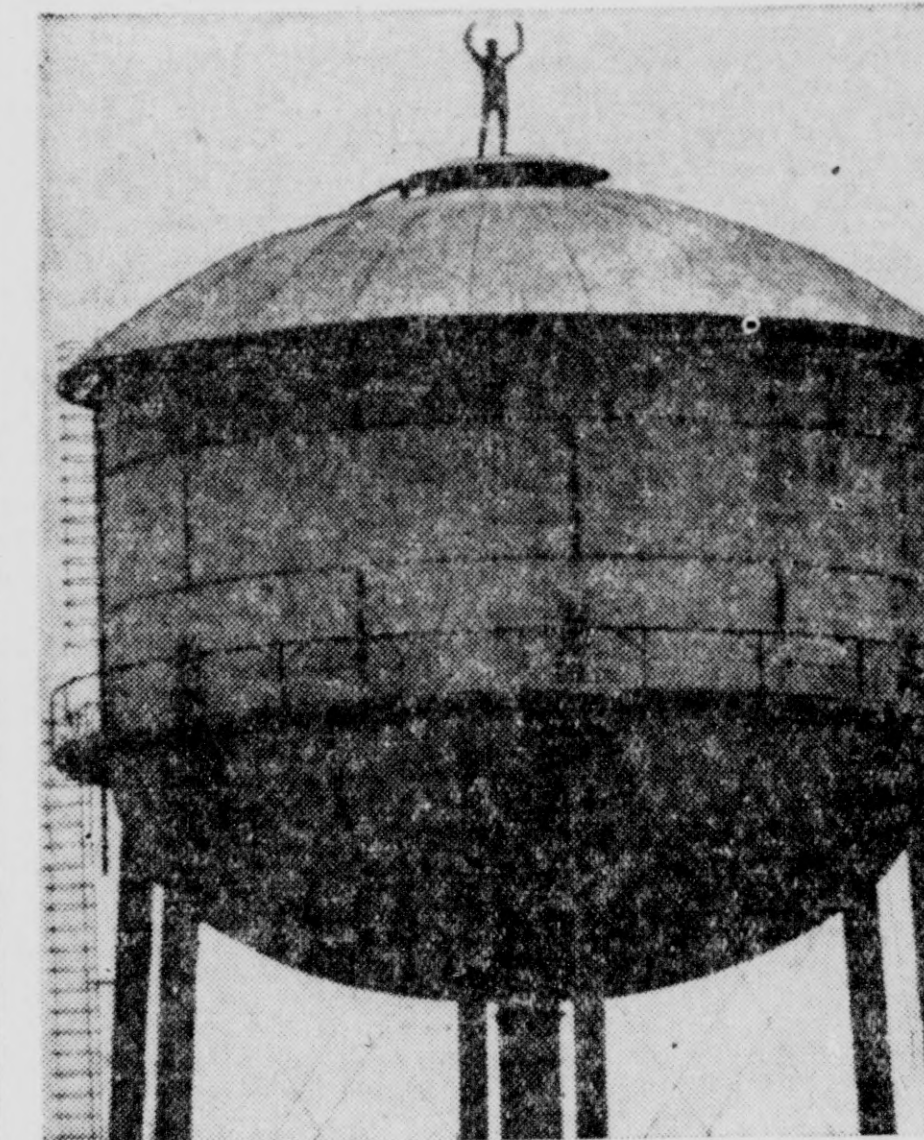

HARRISBURG, June 19.—Active steps may be taken by Gov. Arthur H. James to break the deadlock which is holding up enactment of a state budget. The chief executive is not expected to content himself with the special message he delivered to a joint session of the House and Senate.

In the event the legislative jam continues, the governor will probably take steps designed to focus public attention on the problem. Vital state services may be curtailed or altogether halted in an effort to bring public pressure to bear on the Democratic House, unless it accedes to his wishes.

Enactment of the $188,000,000 general appropriations bill does little to solve the budgetary problem which has been before the legislature almost from the day it convened in January. Until the state borrows money from private bankers to tide it over until tax revenues begin to flow in, only a comparatively small sum is available in the treasury. Passage of the general appropriations bill, with its funds for government functions, released only about $10,000,000. The remainder of the appropriation will not become available until the legislature approves legislation authorizing the state to sell tax anticipation notes to obtain ready cash.

Democrats are expected to recede from their tax reduction stand, in which they reduced the four-mill personal property and bank shares taxes by one mill each, a biennial tax of $7,550,000. House majority leaders believe that the tax cut

Renew Campaign Against Beetle

This Is Twentieth Year Since
Japanese Beetle Invaded Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19.—This year marks the 20th anniversary of the invasion of the destructive Japanese beetle in Pennsylvania.

Federal and state control authorities are renewing their campaign to eradicate the insect which preys upon plant life, destroy garden crops and plays havoc with golfing greens.

The beetles were first believed to have entered this country in the roots of plants imported from the Far East. They multiplied rapidly and caused considerable damage in Philadelphia and the entire southwestern Pennsylvania area.

Progress was made toward checking growth of the insect plague in 1928 with new control methods were developed. The Jap beetle zone, however, embraces eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

Most heavily infested counties perhaps are northern Bucks, southern Northampton, Berks, Lebanon and northern Dauphin counties. Damage chiefly was done field and sweet corn, with the injury more serious in early plantings. Beetle grubs frequently damage lawns and fruit crops.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1941 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

There was once a school teacher tinkering around in the back room of Doc Robinson's drug store in Mifflin, O. He was young Charles F. Kettering, giving a workout to that native Yankee inventive genius which is apt to break out almost anywhere in our country. Mr. Kettering, the genial David Harum of American industry, is to be credited with Delco lighting and many other inventions, and merely incidental thereto is his ownership of $15,000,000 worth of General Motors stock and his directorship of the General Motors research laboratories.

Today it's pretty nearly Gospel when he says we're going to get a protective device which will make hundreds of the murderous submarines; that it has been coming up for the last six years and that it's almost ready. When it comes to the wizardry of electromechanics, Mr. Kettering is an authority no one would want to dispute and, more important perhaps, he speaks with an abounding faith in the capacity of science not only to make a better world but a safer world for all hands.

We've just been talking with a friend, a French engineer and physicist, about war's stimulation of scientific research, and the advances in science which have been by-products of war. Our friend is a "free" Frenchman, who finds a base here for continued experiments, supplementary to his previous contributions to radio, which have been notable, particularly in communications developments for the French navy. We happened to mention Mr. Kettering.

"He is one of the greatest inventive geniuses," said my friend. "We don't have many of that type in Europe and you may not have many more of them here. The best scientific brains are now slued into commercial laboratories, and I do not think such explorations are a substitute for what I believe you have called in this country the 'garret inventor.' But you will find that this war, like all others, will bring a great scientific advance in some fields, and I believe America will be the main beneficiary of this. "In the World War there was a concentration on ballistics, which produced the German 'Big Bertha.' But there also was great research in communications, and in the last two years of the war radio made more rapid gains than it had made in the preceding ten years. Both England and Germany made great gains, many of which were developed into useful industrial processes.

"In this war, England is at a disadvantage, because its concentration must be in overcoming the long head-start which Germany had in military technology. That will necessarily confine it to trying to do the same thing but doing it better. Stratosphere bombing, bigger and better planes, better bomb-sights—all these are extensions and improvements of new techniques, but they are not in the fertile field of pure research. You have a clean slate here, if you keep out of this war a while longer.

"For instance, there's the magnetic beam, to kill the motor of a plane or a tank. Some scientists think this is fantastic; others do not, and certainly many of the most valuable inventions have come from what seemed to be the domain of pure fantasy. I happen to know that England was working hard on that before this war started, but now all her energies must be turned to more immediate and pressing problems.

"This war is bringing tremendous new concentration on the old endeavor to gain unlimited energy by breaking up the atom. That means an infinite supply of mobile power. It is by no means impossible. The war of position is ended. That horrendous 'Big Bertha' is just a museum piece now. Your best technicians in America know this.

"If you will just get rid of your 'brass hats,' as we failed to do in France and England, you have unlimited opportunity for discovery and utilization of techniques which will keep you safe and free. By all means, give a free hand to your Ketterings. One such man is worth a million military bureaucrats."

halt today for the second time within a month at the C. G. Hussey & collapsed and the AFL-Federal la-

Pickets barred all but executives morning, affecting 750 men.

Stumbling block in the negotia-

recently won an election as bargaining agency—ending the first strike which started May 20.

Graphic Details Of Fierce Battle Of Libya Given By Newspaperman

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Graphic details of the fierce battle of Libya, being fought by British and Axis troops on the hot desert sands in the Sollum area are brought direct from the battlefield in the following eyewitness report which gives a first-hand view of the enormous forces of tanks and mechanized units hurled against each other. The dispatch was filed by a staff reporter of the London Daily Express.)

By O. D. GALLAGHER
(London Daily Express Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES AT SOLLUM, June 19.—In this battle, for the first time in the war, we've met the Germans on almost equal terms in men, tanks, guns and planes.

Nevertheless, we're fighting them at a disadvantage. We're attacking up the steep, Sollum escarpment with "Hellfire Pass" as our objective. This is not the same pass from which Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell ousted the Italians, but a pass most heavily fortified by German engineers.

At dawn, our first infantry units marched against them—a killed regiment and an Indian regiment—supported by more than 100 tanks.

They gained the flat levels above the escarpment by way of devious routes, each unit simultaneously assaulting particular German units strung out along the escarpment.

The fighting is of the fiercest. Out of sight of the infantry—down on the plain—our tanks engaged the enemy tanks in one of the biggest single tank actions of the war.

Reports from the battlefield indicate that the Germans were surprised and shocked by the sudden appearance under their lines of several thousand highly trained infantry.

try who had approached without warning. In wads, behind and before the fortifications, bloody hand-to-hand fighting raged. Our men adopted the famous old desert tactics so well-tried on the northwest frontier.

The Germans attacked us again and again only to be wiped out by fire from machine-guns, Bren guns and hand grenades.

At the same time, the air activity was most extensive for desert warfare but not comparable to the air battles I witnessed over Kent last year.

But I have had to interrupt the writing of this dispatch.

Through my glasses I saw long trails of dust coming toward me lickety-split down the escarpment—tanks.

But at this distance I cannot identify them—whether they are theirs or ours.

As my only weapon is a typewriter, I feel it imperative that I retire.

SIX-YEAR-OLD

GIRL IS OFFICIAL LOLLIPOP TASTER

(International News Service)
EVANSTON, Ill., June 19.—For a youngster of six, Barbara Schulze has a very fine job indeed—a job that pays off in wealth, social position and security.

Barbara's income is not so much really—not enough to pay taxes on—but it's an income she wouldn't trade off for that of a movie star.

Barbara is a lollipop taster. She is an adviser to a big candy company. She tastes their lollipops, takes lollipops around to her friends and has them do a little tasting. She even gets paid of in lollipops to make the job doubly fascinating.

The candy company sends all its latest flavors around to Barbara and the whole board of directors holds its breath while Barbara is tasting, weighing, judging and cocking her six-year-old head at the angle of a seasoned connoisseur.

DETROIT, June 19--The International Circulation Managers' Association in convention here today decided to dignify the young boy selling newspapers by officially designating him as a "newspaper boy" instead of "newsie" or "news-boy."

The association also plans a national campaign for observing October 4 as "Newspaper Boy Day," according to W. G. Andrews, circulation manager of the Fort Wayne (Ind.) "News Sentinel."

Andrews described the newspaper boy of today as "a carefully selected lad of ambition who is earning a profit in an honest selling effort."

Tragic Effects Of Bomb Raids On Children Seen

(EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the most tragic but least-published aspects of the war—the effect of bombing raids upon tiny children—is dealt with in the following dispatch from Kathleen Harriman, young girl reporter on the London staff of International News Service.)

By KATHLEEN HARRIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 19.—I've just returned from seeing my first bomb-struck child. She was standing in her cot, animal-like on all fours beating and tearing a magazine in time with a moan—completely oblivious of all life around her. Two weeks ago she'd been like one of the kids I saw playing in the streets of Dover. She's not physically ill now. She'll live, the matron said, that's the trouble—she'll probably live to a ripe old age tucked away in an asylum.

Driving down to Dover I saw plenty of evacuated children and not exactly ones like I'd schooled myself to find. Despite the war, food shortage and everything else these children, with their pink cheeks, had a greater air of health than our American ones. I was told most of their fathers made a scant three to five pounds ($12 to $20) a week. Well, English manufacturers must get out better and cheaper clothes, because to me they looked better dressed and cleaner than most of the high school kids back home.

Colored muffers and knee lengthened worsted stockings added to the charm of their well cut shorts and school caps. It seemed too good to be true. I wish that London mother had been with me. I'd like to show her what her children are missing. It's something far more important than mothers' love.

Once inside the guarded Dover area I had another shock. Here at least, at England's front line of battle, within sheltering distance of France, I thought the children would be gone. But no, there they were, playing ball and shooting down the street, dodging tank barricades as though they were bushes and shrubs, part of the usual town property.

These days children can find much wonderful places for playing hide-and-go-seek, and there's plenty else to keep them occupied. I saw a busy little group by an erstwhile house, scrubbing around in dust, collecting bits of broken brick and glass. Thank God for the policeman posted near time bomb areas! Children are far too inquisitive to be allowed out loose near such dangerous objects of interest. It's not hard to imagine an unexploded bomb the subject for a rousing game of "I Dare You". Or don't the children of England know that one Lord knows, I hope not.

Talking to the townspeople, I found that although the shelling did smaller damage, it frightened them more. Air raid warnings preceded any bombing and being prepared for the attack makes the noise and fear of destruction easier to stand, so they told me. Things were quiet that day, so I couldn't find out for myself.

Something else I couldn't find out was why those women chose to keep their children "safe" with them—rather than to send them away to a child's evacuation center—a place beyond the range of the German guns where some remnants of continual normalcy could be found. It takes more than a simple statement to answer that one.

Railroads Plan To Build 193,000 New Freight Cars

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—American railroads have embarked on a program to build 193,000 new freight cars by the fall of 1942, it was learned today as a general priorities system was set up for freight car building to prevent a threatened transportation shortage.

E. R. Stettinius, Jr., director of priorities for the OPM, announced that "because of a growing tightness in the supply of freight cars," a limited blanket rating is being extended to 60 car builders. The rating will give the car builders priority on delivery of steel and steel plates after military needs are met.

At the same time it was revealed that the freight car building program had been expanded to contain plate construction of 193,000 cars. About 73,000 cars have been ordered and orders for 120,000 more are to be placed soon.

In taking the action, Stettinius urged freight car builders to use substitute materials for critical items wherever possible.

This means that the old fashioned wooden box car and gondola may return. It is estimated that 2,000,000 tons of steel would normally be needed to build the freight cars but the amount may be cut somewhat by use of substitutes.

New Group Reaches Indiantown Gap For Intensive Training

(International News Service)

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., June 19.—Pennsylvania's 28th Division today was augmented by 621 bronzed, robust trainees from the U. S. Army's replacement center at Fort Riley, Kansas.

The men, selective service replacements sent to Indiantown Gap to serve in the horse and mechanized squadrons, came largely from up-per New York state, New York City, Brooklyn and Pennsylvania. All have completed 13 weeks basic training.

Col. Albert H. Stackpole, commander of the 104th Cavalry Regiment, said the new men will be absorbed in his regiment with the majority of them assigned to the mechanized units. The boost will bring the 104th to its full war time strength of 1550 soldiers. When the recruits arrived at nearby Lickdale, the 104th band was on hand to give them a blaring welcome. Pleased with the demonstration, the trainees grouped around the regiment's swing orchestra as music of a non-military nature filled the air.

Men On Cruiser Held By Police

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Several men aboard a 40-foot cabin cruiser in New York harbor were reported taken into custody at the Brooklyn navy yard today.

Unconfirmed information indicated naval authorities were attempting to determine whether the men, said to have been acting suspiciously, were trying to take photographs of the yard.

The boat and its crew were taken into the navy yard by a patrol boat. Two other vessels also were reported seized for investigation.

Eight-Hour Day Law Suspended On Some Projects

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt, by executive order, today suspended application of the eight-hour law to mechanics and laborers employed by the War Department defense projects in the Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, and the Territory of Alaska.

The Presidential order declared: "It appears that, unless the eight-hour limitation is suspended as to laborers and mechanics in the construction of the foregoing public works, it will be impossible, because of the remoteness of such places from sources of labor supply in the United States, and because of the difficulties of housing and transporting additional labor from the United States, to accomplish the work necessary to the completion of such public works within the time required by the interests of national defense."

Therefore, Knox said, all civilian employees of the navy must sign affidavits before notaries public stating they are not members of subversive organizations before they will get their pay checks under the new naval appropriations act.

Fifty-Year-Old Quarrel Ends In Couple Marrying

(International News Service)

ELIZABETH N. J., June 19.—A 50-year-old love quarrel terminated today in the marriage of George Champlain, 65, and the former Mary Crowe, 61.

About a half century ago Champlain and Mary Crowe were fellow pupils in St. Mary's Parochial school in Elizabeth. They walked home from school together—were real pals, and hoped one day to be married.

But a quarrel disrupted the friendship and they went separate ways. Champlain ultimately became a veterinarian and Mary a seamstress. They lived just a few miles apart and occasionally would meet on the street, nod and walk on. Neither made any attempt to patch up matters.

Recently, they were brought together and began keeping company again.

They were married last night before a small group of friends at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.

Navy Employees Are Required To Sign Affidavits

Must Announce They Are Not Members Of Any Subversive Organization

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary of Navy Knox told all navy employees today that they must sign affidavits to the effect that they are not members of any subversive organizations before they will receive pay checks after June 30.

Knox explained that a section of the act provides that no part of the appropriation shall be used to pay wages of any employee who advocates overthrow of the government.

The secretary pointed out further that a section of the Hatch Act of 1939 makes it unlawful for any government employee to be a member of any organization that advocates overthrow of the government by force.

Therefore, Knox said, all civilian employees of the navy must sign affidavits before notaries public stating they are not members of subversive organizations before they will get their pay checks under the new naval appropriations act.

Joe Louis Stops Conn In Thirteenth

Crashes Hard Right To Jaw When Challenger "Loses Head"

CONN APPARENTLY HAD FIGHT WON

By JACK MAHON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—Two tiny seconds—the difference between a gasp and a sigh—and a punch that traveled less than a foot, broke the heart of a gallant Irish kid named Billy Conn last night, burst the boxing world into flames and forced Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis into retirement until September.

With the crown of his dreams settling on his handsome, curly head, Billy the Kid ran into one right hand, fired by a desperate, losing champion, was battered for almost half a minute then fell, for the first and last time, just twelve seconds before the bell ended the thirteenth round of a dazzling, dime novel fight.

The fatal ten was tolled off. Two seconds more would have saved Conn. The hour glass was running for Pat Joe, however, and it saved his title. And not too long after the tired champion and his courageous challenger had trailed through a screaming crowd of 54,487 fans to the dressing rooms, Julian Black, one of Louis' managers announced Joe "definitely needed a rest and would not fight again until September." John Roxborough, Joe's other brain-truster, confirmed this. He said the champ would probably fight Lou Nova in the fall as planned and that Conn would probably be put "on ice" until next June.

Return Bout Next June

Joe was slated to meet Abe Simon in a return bout here next month and then take Nova in September. Last night's nightmare for the champion and his managers, however, changed all that. The bum of the month campaign is at an end.

"Joe was with a fine line," said Roxborough. "He's been fighting too much and needs a rest. He definitely will not fight again until September. We haven't signed for anyone yet but Nova will probably get the fight." Asked about a Conn return, John said "sure we'll fight him again but probably not till next June."

Louis was his usual honest, frank self and had no excuses. He talked as he fights—like a champion.

"How do you think it would go in a return?" he was asked.

"He might beat me," answered Joe without a second's hesitation.

Conn "loses head" just as he thought it would. "I figured he would lose his head when I caught him and he did," explained the Bomber. "I didn't think it would take so long though. He's not the best fighter I ever fought but he is the smartest and takes care of himself better. He's much faster than I am and hits faster too."

Louis said a missed left hook by Conn gave him the opening he needed in the thirteenth round. "I caught him with a right to the chin, then," said Joe. "After that I knew I had him. My managers told me at the end of the twelfth that I had to knock him out to win and I knew it and I did. I was way way behind."

Joe wasn't whistling when he made that crack either. If he didn't nail Conn with that one chiller, the 23-year-old kid who laughed at the lightning would be dressed in the royal purple this afternoon. Conn, who had won six round and lost

Louis Share $160,000; Conn Draws $80,000

Unofficial Gross Receipts Of Fight Wednesday Night Approximately $450,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Based on the unofficial gross gate of $450,000 announced by the 20th Century Sporting Club, Billy Conn and Joe Louis will split about $340,000 for their heavyweight title fight which thrilled 54,487 fans at the Polo Grounds here last night.

Conn received 20 per cent and Louis 40 per cent of the gross gate which would give the challenger in the neighborhood of $80,000, with tax deducted and the champion about double that, $160,000 for his efforts.

Conn, On Brink Of Title, Walks Into K. O. Punch

Billy Conn, the curly-haired youth who had the heavyweight title virtually jangling in his pocket up until this moment in the 13th round, lies knocked out on the canvas at New York's Polo grounds after walking into a punch that Louis, in desperation, shot out with neck-cracking force. A crowd of 54,487 fans paid an estimated $450,000 to witness this 18th title defense of champ Joe Louis.

Conn Confesses He "Lost Head"

Pittsburgh Fighter Sure To Get Return Title Fight With Champion

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—He was battered and bloody and trying hard to smile as he sat in his dressing room right after the fight last night. Then Billy Conn looked up, just as Promoter Mike Jacobs fought his way through the mob. Rushing over to the handsome hero in defeat, Jacobs threw his arms around Billy, kissed him twice on his bruised cheek and whispered: "You're the next champion, Billy. You're the next champion."

Mike whispered a few other things in Billy's ear, too, but he wouldn't reveal what. "Might have something to say tomorrow," was all he would say.

Conn took his sudden, startling knockout gallantly.

"I tried, fellows, didn't I?" he said as he wiped the blood and the sweat from his torn right eye. "I didn't quit, did I?"

Defeated Boy Smiles

Assured by the wave of reporters which soon engulfed him that he had put on a terrific show, Billy began to smile.

"Well, what happened, did you lose your temper?" they asked from all sides.

"Yeah, lost my head and the title went with it," answered Billy promptly.

He didn't say anything for a minute and there was a sudden silence. The newspapermen, strangely enough, were also at a loss for words. Then Billy looked up and said:

"Will you guys give me another chance. I'd like to fight him again."

How do you think the boys answered him?

Champ Refuses Trainer's Advice

Goes Stale In Training And As A Result Almost Loses Title

FATES KIND TO DETROIT BOMBER

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 19.—Joe Louis, who generally is so obedient that he appears to be downright servile in his relations with his stable of managers, can at times be as stubborn as those Alabama mules he left behind him in the long ago.

Twice in his almost unbelievable savings-to-savvy career he has lightly ignored the advice of those about him and landed his big bronze carcass right in the middle of trouble. One of those occasions was last night.

The men in his corner were nearly dying between rounds while he frittered away his million dollar championship. Then finally tucked it all back into his—and their wallet.

They couldn't get him to train for Max Schmeling, a 10 to 1 underdog, and they couldn't make him take rest in conditioning for Conn.

"He was stale," his handlers hollered last night after Louis had come within a couple of punches of a knockout and within a few minutes of losing his title on a decision.

Providence Kind To Joe

It was six years ago today that Louis came into the ring to meet Schmeling for the first time after having gone through all the motions of a man getting into shape for a siesta, which, prophetically enough is what he got.

Jack Blackburn tried to make him lay off a couple of days during his last week of training for Conn and an argument ensued that resulted finally in Louis getting his way and working every day. He went into the ring last night at 199½ pounds, or lighter than he has been in years and therefore quite conceivably overtrained as his managers insist.

He remains the heavyweight champion today by the grace of a kindly providence that caused Conn to forget to duck in that thirteenth round after he had all but knocked Louis out in the twelfth.

CLOUDBUSTERS WIN GAME

The Cloudbusters defeated the Clifton Flats All Stars last night at the Flats field 18 to 1. J. Dzemyan hurled a fine game for the victors, fanning 19 men and giving but three hits. Extra-base hits were made by J. Chabak, W. Pruitt and S. Hudak. The batteries for the winners were Dzemyan and W. Pruitt, and for the losers B. Smiley and N. Hordig.

"Red" Davis Joins Hole-In-One Club

Member Of News Family Gets Ace On No. 2 Hole At Castle Hills Course

Goldom's greatest thrill came to a member of the New Castle News family last night at the Castle Hills No. 2 174-yard hole, the golfer in question being Clarence "Red" Davis, foreman of The News composing room. Davis has been playing golf for about eight years.

Witnessing the thrilling shot were Joe Replie, Harry Crammer and Hiram Lamphier who were playing with Davis at the time. Davis used his spoon and the ball hit the front of the green on the fly and went trinkling straight for the cup which was rather well towards the back of the green—and ker-plunk it dropped in.

Unperturbed by his sudden entrance into one of the most exclusive societies in the world, Davis played the next few holes in good golfing figures to wit—5455466 to finish out the front nine in a real good 42 count. Then on the back nine Davis ran into another piece of luck dropping his second shot into the cup for a birdie, two on the No. 13 215-yard hole, after almost driving the green. Davis finally wound up the evening with an 89 for the 18 holes which is good enough golf anytime, except for pros.

Lou Nova Thinks He Can Whip Joe

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—A tall college man, physically resembling the character in Jack London's famous story, "The Abysmal Brute," sat with friends after the Louis-Conn fight last night and said:

"Yes, I can beat Louis. I can take his punches and can hit hard enough to knock him out. He has defended the heavyweight championship of the world successfully for the last time."

The boy who made that remark is Lou Nova of California, who belted out Pat Comiskey, Max Baer and others with his left and right hand smashes to the jaw—punches with plenty of power.

Dewey A. C. Tops Elders Team 4-0

The Dewey A. C. behind the great two-hit pitching of Cy Conzini defeated the Elder A. A. last night in a City-County league game at Marshall field 4 to 0. Conzini was master of the Elders at all times. Conzini hurled a hitless game until the sixth. He fanned 13 men.

Slippery Rock Ace Makes Hole-In-One

Alex "Chinky" Dutkin Scores Ace At Sylvan Heights Course

Holes-in-one are coming thick and fast these days. Alex "Chinky" Dutkin, ace of the Slippery Rock State Teachers college team, dropping one into the cup on the 137-yard No. 8 hole at Sylvan Heights course Tuesday while playing with Ted Lach and J. C. Minton.

Just the week previous, Perry Lastoria scored a hole-in-one while playing in a golf-league match.

Feller Captures His Fourteenth

Defeats Philadelphia Easily, Fans Eight, Cardinals Trim Dodgers

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—On their showing to date, the Brooklyn Dodgers are a pushover for a lefthander and until they learn to do something about them, their pennant prospects are going to be slim indeed.

Vern Olsen of the Cubs hand-cuffed them yesterday, 5 to 1, the lone run for the Dodgers being due to a ninth inning homer by Joe Medwick. Up to that point Olsen had pitched 30 scoreless innings to tie a season mark previously set by Bob Feller.

Hank Leiber put the game on ice with two homers, good for four runs, off Lake Hamlin in the second and third innings. These two homers, plus one he had made on his last trip to the plate the previous day, tied a league record for homers made in successive times at bat.

The defeat dropped the Dodgers another game back of the Cardinals who, with Lanier left-handing the Phils into a coma, had no trouble breezing in, 7 to 3.

Pirates-Giants Tie
But another lefty, Johnny Vander Meer of the Reds, was not so lucky in a night game, the Braves topping him in the ninth, 3-2.

And speaker of night games, the Pirates and Giants had their called at the end of the 11th, 2-2, because of a rule which permits no inning to be started after 12:50 a. m. The game had been held up to let the fans hear a broadcast of the Conn-Louis embroglio.

Over in the other circuit, the Indians picked up another game on the Yanks as Bob Feller registered his 14th victory at the expense of the Macknicks, 14-2. Bob fanned eight to run his total for the season to 119 and gave but four hits.

The White Sox topped the Yanks again, 3-2, behind the fifty left-handed throwing of Thornton Lee. However, Joe DiMaggio managed to keep his hitting streak intact through his 31st consecutive game and Charley Keller's homer marked the 14th straight game in which the Yanks have made at least one homer. Detroit holds the record with 17 straight games in which the Tigers hit for the circuit.

The Tigers topped the Red Sox, 5-2, and at night the Browns saved themselves a plunge into the basement by taking the Senators, 4-3.

his chin. Conn could take the punch but his flaming spirit couldn't. He wasn't content to win by a decision now, he had seen a great fighter in trouble in the previous round and he was determined to knock him out.

So they started slugging it out, man to man and glory riding at every punch, a desperate champion and a kid with a rainbow dream coming true, that was your thirteenth round.

But the champion had it when he needed it. The punch that made him, came back to Louis. With it he beat down the charge of this staggering Irish boy and soon had him tittering.

Conn Goes Down
"Stay away, stay away," they screamed but the bloodlust had Conn now; his pride wouldn't let him retreat and soon the torrent of rights and lefts swept over him, the strength fled from his tiring legs and, at last, he fell.

He sank in his exhaustion right in front of us and instinctively we grabbed at our watch. For one desperate moment as the timekeeper started to pound on the ring again we thought luck was with Billy, that the bell might save him. But there were exactly twelve seconds left. Then for the champion—two to break the heart of a boy with a dream.

ST. MARYS WIN GAME
The St. Marys baseball team defeated the Elks last evening in a game at the Lee avenue field 10 to 5, with Ambrose Carrigan the winning hurler and Bob Mills the losing heaver. Heavy hitting was done by Bill Hannon.

Fame may swell both the head and the purse, but one of them soon gets back to normal.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Billy Talbot of Cincinnati ousted Hoe Hunt of the N. S. Naval academy from the national clay courts tennis tourney Wednesday in Chicago, taking four sets, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2 and 6-4. Other winners were: Gardner Larned of Chicago over Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables and Frank Parker of Spring Lake, N. J. over Wayne Sabitt of Portland, Ore.

The writer predicted yesterday in this column, as follows: Joe Louis is ready to defend his heavyweight title against Billy Conn tonight in New York City and the writer believes he will win the bout. However, this opinion is not shared by all. There are many who believe Conn will prove to be clever and ring-smart for the aging but heavy-hitting Joe.

Dizzy Dean received his questionnaire at Chicago yesterday. The Chicago coach who once served nearly two years in the U. S. Army, gave him age as 31 and listed four dependents. He is married but has no children. "I don't think I'll have to go," said Dizzy, "but if the country ever needs me, I'll be ready and willing to go."

Billy Soose, middleweight champion, is living on a 400-acre stretch of woodland at Wakenapack lake, near Hawley, Pa. . . . Harry Bobo and Jack Marshall, heavyweights, have been matched to fight at Pittsburgh next Monday.

The next boxing show here will be June 30. Incidentally, it was stated today by the Jefferson A. C. that certain reserve seats will not be held for the persons who failed to attend the last couple shows. They now are available for others or will be sold to early comers.

Fans are yet talking of the smashing victory of Frankie Moran over Johnny Shar. The fact he can deliver a knee with either hand is a big asset. Shar was also a good hitter and tough, but Frankie's "guns" were too powerful.

Baseball teams in the Lawrence County Baseball league have been expected to arrange immediately to play off postponed games because the first half ends June 25. Games scheduled Sunday are: Wampum at Ellwood City and Bessemer at Hillsville.

Wampum And Hillsville Tie
Hillsville and Wampum played a 4-4 deadlock in a Lawrence County Baseball league game at Wampum, Wednesday. Dombek allowed Hillsville eight hits and Ammons allowed Wampum eight. Hillsville made two errors and Wampum one. Ammons hit two doubles. Pepe Wardman and K. Price each poled one.

Search Continued For River Victim

ELLWOOD CITY, June 19.—The unsuccessful effort of the Ellwood City Rescue Squad is continuing with more hope that the body of William Black, who was drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming at McConnell's Mills, will be found as the high water recedes.

The squad has been working daily since Sunday in the high swift waters of the rapids below the dam with no results. Whether the body is lodged among the rocks here or has been washed farther down stream is a matter of conjecture, but the Rescue Squad will continue until all hope is exhausted.

Market Reacts As Much As Point Today As Selling Is Carried Over

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—The stock market reacted as much as a point today, as selling was carried over from the last half-hour yesterday. News of the German-Turkish "friendship" pact continued the chief unsettling influence. Traders also were faced with the persistent rumors of Nazi troop movements against the Soviet and reports of a huge Japanese fleet movement southward in the Formosan Straits. Prices were mixed in the first few minutes of trading, but started downward shortly thereafter. A handful of stocks resisted the downward trend.

Bethlehem, down more than a point, led the decline in steel shares. U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube each lost about half as much. Westinghouse Electric, Eastman Kodak and U. S. Gypsum were others to show losses of a point or more.

Fractional declines were the rule in the coppers, chemicals, aviation, motor and mail order sections.

Independent firmness was shown by U. S. Rubber, North American Co., Chesapeake & Ohio, Pure Oil, Standard Oil of California, U. S. Smelting ran up a point on a single sale.

Plant, New London yachtsman and founder of the Florida East Coast Railroad, who adopted Phil. When the elder Plant died, he left the bulk of his estate, estimated at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 to his adopted son.

Night Flying Plane Invention May Locate Other Planes In Air

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The American aviation industry is experimenting with night flying planes that may incorporate newly developed radio equipment capable of locating attacking aircraft in fog and darkness.

Industrial aeronautical sources disclosed today that the Northrup company in California is working on an experimental night fighter for the War Department. These sources explained that the efficiency of a night fighter obviously lies in its ability to intercept approaching planes in the dark.

They added that it is logical to assume that if the British have perfected radio equipment to guide night fighters toward approaching enemy aircraft, the United States government probably has been given blueprints for the device.

These sources cited the fact that the United States and Great Britain have been exchanging various military secrets. It is recalled that specifications for an American bomb-sight were turned over to the R. A. F. last fall.

While the details of how the British radio detection device operates constitutes a strict defense secret, technical experts believe it may function somewhat similarly to the radio beams that guide commercial airliners across country.

Combination sound and radio apparatus on the ground presumably detects an approaching airplane, it was explained, and establishes radio beam. Interceptor planes then take off, pick up the beam and follow it to the attackers.

Up to now the detection of approaching airplanes has been based principally on sound apparatus, or giant "ears" that pick up the drone of the airplane motors. Sound detectors were used as far back as the early days of the first World War. American sound detecting equipment in use today is capable of picking up the approach of an airplane some 15 minutes flying time distant. Without the newly perfected radio equipment, however, the defending plane must still locate the approaching aircraft by vision.

War and navy department officials refused to speculate whether this government would make available radio technicians and operators to man the new devices in England.

NAVY GETS MEDAL FOR SUBMARINE SAFETY DEVICE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—For developing the safest and surest means of rescuing trapped seamen from disabled submarines, the United States Navy has been awarded the Cresson medal of achievement by Franklin Institute.

Bestowal of the medal gave recognition to research workers who labored at the Washington Navy Yard on the problem since the submarine S-4 sank off Massachusetts with a loss of 47 men in 1927.

Only devices available up to that time were a helmet and a breathing bag in use by the Germans. For collective rescue the raising of the vessel by pontoons had to be relied upon.

The Navy researchers solved the problem with the United States Lung and Rescue Chamber. Success came after arduous tests conducted in a 60-foot deep tank—tests which evolved a lung which has made ascents from depths of 200 feet.

FORESTS URGED FOR IDLE FARMS

HARRISBURG, June 19.—Charles E. Baer, deputy secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, today released data on the production and consumption of wood in Pennsylvania.

The stock survey of the state forests showed that the average current annual growth on each of the 1,654,283 acres was 31 cubic feet of solid wood which is equal to 34 of a cord. If this growth per acre is used as an average for the entire forested area in the state, estimated to be 13,200,000 acres, it indicates that they would be a yearly increase of 409,200,000 cubic feet.

The estimated current annual wood needs in Pennsylvania are quoted at 860,000,000 cubic feet while the volume cut from the forested area in the state each year amounts to about 120,000,000 cubic feet. This would mean that 740,000,000 cubic feet of wood is bought outside of Pennsylvania each year and hauled into the state, chiefly from western and southern parts of the nation.

"The Department of Forests and Waters is striving toward the goal when the forests in the state can supply the entire wood needs within the commonwealth," Baer said. "It is possible to double the current yearly growth of 409,200,000 cubic feet by careful management. There should be a decidedly greater increase in the planting of forest trees on open sites within the wooded area and on most of the approximately 2,000,000 acres of unused farm land."

W. P. A. In State To Be Reduced

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 19.—State W. P. A. Administrator Philip Matthews summoned five district leaders to Harrisburg today to discuss the reduction of 25,000 workers in Pennsylvania ordered by W. P. A. at Washington.

The conferees will attempt to determine where the cut would be made in the event congress approves a reduced appropriation. The reduction is expected to result in the closing of minor projects.

Colonel Matthews already has received preliminary instructions from Washington to slash the work-relief rolls from 93,000 to 68,000 workers. Many of the latter, it is feared, will be forced onto direct relief.

In order to achieve the reduction, officials said, it may be necessary to end W. P. A. work completely in a number of counties. New quotas were expected to emerge from yesterday's meeting.

The changes will have to be made within the next fortnight, Matthews indicated, since the present appropriation expires on June 30.

TRUCKERS SUMMONED

HARRISBURG, June 19.—The Public Utility Commission today summoned 47 truckers to Harrisburg June 23 to answer charges of failure to comply with the commission's insurance requirements. They included:

Beaver County—D. E. Lynn, Alliquippa; Pete Sniley, New Brighton; Lawrence County—E. B. Gilliland, Pultaski; Alex Bogden, New Castle.

Nazi-Turkey Pact Has Been Signed

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 19.—A pact of "mutual interest" between Germany and Turkey has now been initiated, the authoritative British Press Association reported.

Apart from German propaganda use, the pact will be of little diplomatic importance, commented the press association.

It is likely, said the press association, that the pact contains little substance and probably amounts to nothing more than an understanding of mutual non-aggression and an agreement to consult on matters of mutual interest.

The press association emphasized that the treaty provides for no enlargement of German - Turkish trade relations and will not affect current good-will and understanding between Turkey and Britain.

At all times, said the press association, Whitehall (British foreign office) was kept fully informed by the Turkish government of the various stages of negotiations with Germany.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The hard of hearing person has a place in industry.

That is, if he compensates for his defect.

He needs either lip reading or hearing aids and a special skill.

In some types of work, deafness is definitely a handicap.

Where orders are given by bells, whistles or by mouth.

Most employers admit the hard of hearing do good work.

This is especially true in jobs where such may work alone.

Many employees are willing to place a hard of hearing man in a job.

Providing it does not endanger quality of output or speed of work.

Prospect for advancement is not good unless high skill is an offset.

The deaf person must compensate with greater care and skill.

Yet the hard of hearing can obtain and do hold good jobs.

Battery sets account for about a quarter of current production of radios, says the Department of Commerce.
